ADMINISTRATIVE EXPERIENCE

Associate Chancellor for Space and Capital Planning (November 2021 – present)

Responsibilities: I serve on the chancellor’s leadership team with responsibility for space and capital planning for the entire campus.

Key Achievements: I am responsible for assigning 13.4 million square feet of campus space to all units. I have worked with the vice chancellor for administration & finance to develop the 5-year, $445M capital plan for 2023–2027. I oversee major capital projects, including two new building projects and aspects of the UMass Carbon Zero initiative.

Senior Vice Provost for Academic Affairs (September 2017 – present)

Responsibilities: I serve on the provost’s leadership team with responsibility for several key functions in academic affairs: coordination of units and initiatives related to teaching, including the Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL) and Instructional Design, Engagement, and Support (IDEAS); evaluation of faculty for tenure, promotion, and other personnel actions; coordination with facilities and campus planning to ensure effective use of academic spaces and the availability of suitable laboratory spaces for new hires; campus makerspaces; and development and deployment technology for the new UMass Flex initiative.

Key Achievements: I represent academic affairs for all space and campus planning decisions. I oversee the Infrastructure Support Group, which has members from environmental health and safety, animal care, information technology, and campus planning and meets with all faculty candidates who have infrastructure needs (approximately 110 candidates per year pre-pandemic). Working with academic units, I have helped develop, implement, and expand an international distance education program. I initiated and oversaw new campus-wide initiatives for space renovations, interdisciplinary research grants, and seed funds for center-level research initiatives. During the COVID-19 pandemic, I served on the campus leadership team to plan the implementation of the Fall 2020, Spring 2021, and Fall 2021 semesters. I serve on the planning and implementation group for the campus-wide Flexible Learning initiative. I have overseen the campus-wide Academic Quality Assessment and Development (AQAD) process.

Co-Leader of the Center for the Integration of Research, Teaching and Learning (CIRTL) (June 2013 – present)

Responsibilities: I serve as co-leader of the UMass Center for the Integration of Research, Teaching and Learning, which is part of a national network of 43 research universities to provide training for graduate students and postdoctoral researchers in STEM disciplines to prepare them for careers that involve teaching.

Key Achievements: I have co-coordinated on-campus programming for CIRTL, which includes six annual workshops and a 4-day summer teaching institute. I have worked to institutionalize the programmatic offerings on campus, which are the first to focus on teaching training in the STEM disciplines. I collaborate with the other institutions in the CIRTL network to coordinate, implement, and assess on-campus curriculum and network-wide offerings. From 2019 to 2021, I served on the national leadership team for CIRTL.

Interim Department Head of Biomedical Engineering (June 2019 – January 2021)

Responsibilities: I led the recently created Department of Biomedical Engineering with ten faculty members, four staff members, and over 300 students.

Key Achievements: During my term, I led the department through its first growth phase, where eight faculty members joined the department and the department moved to new facilities in the Life Sciences Laboratory. The two tenure-track and two lecturer positions that I filled all helped in increasing the diversity of the faculty. I guided the implementation of the undergraduate curriculum, which culminated with the first students graduating with a B.S. in BME at the end of the Fall 2020 semester. I initiated the ABET accreditation process for the undergraduate program. I established essential department processes ranging from by-laws to the creation of a Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion committee. I resolved a variety of personnel issues. I initiated collaborations with the University of Massachusetts Medical School that enabled two faculty members to locate their research lab there.

Senior Associate Dean / Associate Dean for Research (January 2016 – August 2017)

Responsibilities: I served as associate dean responsible for research activities in the College of Engineering. I was responsible for creating a new department and degree programs in biomedical engineering, overseeing research activities, coordinating space use, ensuring compliance with environmental health and safety regulations, directing the information technology group, and conducting evaluations of academic personnel. I also co-led the implementation of a new cohort-based distance education program in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering.

Key Achievements: I led the efforts to establish an entirely new Department of Biomedical Engineering and B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. degree programs within the college (13 planned faculty hires, $5M projected annual budget), which was approved by the Massachusetts Board of Higher Education. I worked with faculty members to identify new research initiatives. I reviewed and approved research proposals and external funding awards for the College (research expenditures grew from $27.0M to $31.5M). I coordinated how the limited research lab and office space in our college (230,000 sq. ft.) is used and how new hires could be accommodated in existing space or through renovations. I facilitated the funding and design of a renovation that created the Graduate Engineering Hub and the Engineering Community, Equity, and Inclusion Hub. I worked with faculty to ensure compliance with environmental health and safety regulations. I directly oversaw the staff of the college's information technology group (6 staff, $500k budget). Together with the dean, I conducted all reappointment, tenure, and promotion evaluations of academic personnel (115 faculty members). I participated substantially in the strategic planning efforts of the college. I worked with colleagues in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering to pioneer the first distance education degree program offered by UMass Amherst Global. This M.S. in Electrical and Computer Engineering has been offered to cohorts of students abroad using synchronous teaching in an interactive studio since the summer of 2017.

Associate Dean for Graduate Studies and Operations (January 2014 – December 2015)

Responsibilities: I served as associate dean responsible for graduate studies and general operation in the College of Engineering. I was responsible for implementing a new Freshman Seminar program, coordinating graduate student fellowships, training graduate students for teaching, developing new degree programs, directing the information technology group, and conducting evaluations of academic personnel.

Key Achievements: I implemented a new Freshman Seminar program, which offers a small-class experience for all incoming undergraduate students and is taught entirely by graduate student instructors. I developed the course structure for this seminar and set up the training program for the graduate students to be able to teach as instructors of record. This program, which continues to date, involved 28 sections of a seminar and enhances the freshman experience of over 500 undergraduate students per year. I worked with graduate program directors of all engineering departments and the development office to award graduate fellowships. I started the planning for the new Department of Biomedical Engineering and its degree programs. I directly oversaw the staff of the college's information technology group (6 staff, $500k budget). Together with the dean, I conducted all reappointment, tenure, and promotion evaluations of academic personnel (110 faculty members).

Director of Five-Year B.S./M.S. Program in Electrical and Computer Engineering (May 2009 – August 2015)

Responsibilities: I led the efforts to establish a new 5-year B.S./M.S. program in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering.

Key Achievements: I worked with a faculty committee and the Graduate School to set up a streamlined application, review, and admission process for qualified B.S. graduates. I successfully recruited, admitted, and advised six cohorts of students, totaling 76 applicants. This program continues to be a key pathway for retaining the best undergraduate students in electrical and computer engineering for graduate studies.
